

PRIVACY & DISCLOSURE POLICY

Privacy policy

We respect your privacy and will take reasonable measures to protect it, as more fully detailed below.

Should you decide to register as a user on the Website, we may require you to provide us with personal information which includes but is not limited to -

- Your name and surname;
- Your email address;
- Your physical address;
- Your gender;
- Your mobile number; and
- Your date of birth.

Should your personal information change, please inform us and provide us with updates to your personal information as soon as reasonably possible to enable us to update your personal information.

You may choose to provide additional personal information to us, in which event you agree to provide accurate and current information, and not to impersonate or misrepresent any person or entity or falsely state or otherwise misrepresent your affiliation with anyone or anything.

Disclosure Policy

At Aviv Paz Incorporated (PTY) Ltd, we aim to keep our website, mobile site and related software applications ("Website"), as well as the service offered on our Website ("Service") safe for everyone to use, and data security is of the utmost importance. If you have discovered a security vulnerability in our Website or Service, we encourage you to contact us and disclose it to us in a responsible manner.

When security vulnerabilities are reported to us in compliance with this policy, Aviv Paz Incorporated (PTY) Ltd will validate and fix such vulnerabilities as soon as reasonably possible, in line with our commitment to the privacy, safety and security of our customers.

We will not take legal action against you or terminate your access to the Service if you discover and report security vulnerabilities responsibly in compliance with this policy.

Aviv Paz Incorporated (PTY) Ltd reserves all of its legal rights in the event of any noncompliance with this policy.

If you are looking to report another type of issue, which falls outside of the scope of this policy, for example if you are a current customer and you suspect fraudulent activity or suspect that your account may have been compromised, please contact our support team here. Your issue will be investigated immediately and thoroughly.

Reporting a Security Vulnerability If you think that you have found a security vulnerability in our Website or Service, please contact us immediately via contact@avivpazinc.co.za. When reporting a security vulnerability, you must do the following:

Include as much information as possible in your report, as we require a way to reproduce the security vulnerability in order to validate and fix it. "Proof-of-Concept" programs, tools, or test accounts that you've created are welcome, and the following information is required:

- the URL where the vulnerability occurs;
- if applicable, the parameter where the vulnerability occurs;
- the type of the vulnerability;
- a step-by-step instruction how to reproduce the vulnerability;
- a demonstration of the vulnerability, by screenshots or video; and
- if applicable, an attack scenario (an example attack scenario may help demonstrate the risk and get the issue resolved faster).

PRIVACY & DISCLOSURE POLICY

Do not share your findings with anyone until Aviv Paz Incorporated (PTY) Ltd has had adequate time to investigate and deploy a fix. We will notify you when the security vulnerability has been patched.

Consider telling us how to identify you.

We're particularly interested in:
